

American Academy of Stem Cell Physicians

AASCP Zoom Lecture April 21st, 7:30pm (EST)

Mike Boehmer, "Methylene Blue and Redox"

I have been a compounding pharmacist for 33 years and have experience in every aspect of the compounding industry. My current practice with AmEx Pharmacies extends to most of the US, primarily in the areas of dermatology, functional/regenerative/Anti-Aging medicine and pain management. My goal is to make high quality, affordable compounded medications available to patients and prescribers in all locations. Through collaboration and technology, this has become a reality.

I also provide consulting and education services through Nitromedicine, LLC, with my esteemed colleague, and founder of Nitromedicine, Dr. Salaheldin Halasa. The goal of Nitromedicine is to translate emerging international medical science into exciting new clinical therapies by bringing together the necessary stakeholders. This brings us to many medical conferences in various disciplines throughout the year.

We have recently (2019) formed the Academy of Oxidative Stress Related Diseases, which is an academic society open to all interested disciplines. Medical science has shown that OSRD is the core pathology in many chronic diseases and is the root of aging itself, via its impact on cellular regeneration. I invite you to join this fantastic group and learn more about the future of medicine, nutrition and wellness.

In 2020, Dr. Halasa and I founded the Chronic Disease Prevention and Treatment Fellowship, providing medical education and resources to qualified practitioners.
